

IEEE Africon 2017 Proceedings, 18-20 September 2017, Cape Town, South Africa

The ribbon microphone: A teaching aid for low frequency electromagnetic education

Van Wyk M.S.
Meyer P.

ABSTRACT:

The ribbon microphone lends itself as a good example to use for education of multi-physics computer modeling and simulation. The value of the ribbon microphone as teaching aid can be extended by adding a transformer and electronic amplifier to the model. The complete model can be used to illustrate the importance of impedance matching and noise suppression