

2014 International Conference on Chemical Thermodynamics and South African Institution of Chemical Engineering Conference, Durban, South Africa, 27 July - 1 August 2014

Precipitation and characterisation of lignin obtained from South African kraft mill black liquor

Mpho Namane

Council for Scientific and Industrial Research (CSIR), Durban, South Africa, Discipline of Chemical Engineering, University of KwaZulu-Natal, Howard College

ABSTRACT

This presentation discusses what biorefinery means, where lignin is found, formed and how it is isolated, as well as the kraft pulping process, its materials and methods.